

FLY WITH PROJECT BANDALOO IN 2010!

Since 1991, Project Bandaloop has been performing in theaters and on buildings, towers, bridges, skyscrapers, and mountains around the world. Inspired by the possibilities of climbing and rappelling, Project Bandaloop blends dance, sport, ritual, and environmental awareness to create dynamic dances that reframe how people perceive their environment and the art form.

Project Bandaloop

April 24 - 25

Saturday and Sunday

Beginners: 10:00 - 1:00pm, both days

Intermediate/Advanced: 2:30 - 5:30pm, both days

1601 18th Street (at Peralta)

Oakland, CA 94607

Come learn Project Bandaloop's signature vertical/aerial technique. Dance in the air, on the walls, and on the ground with core company members and artistic director, Amelia Rudolph. Workshops will cover technique, safety, training methods, and choreography, improvisation, and play. All gear will be supplied.

Cost: $150

Workshop Reservations: 50% non-refundable deposit required to hold space.
Please send check with your address, phone, and email for confirmation to:

Project Bandaloop
221 Pine St., 4th Floor
San Francisco, CA 94104

or pay via paypal to amanda@projectbandaloop.org

Business office: (415) 421-LOOP

Studio/Workshop location (only call for day-of inquiries): (510) 451-5667

PHOTO BY TODD LABY

www.projectbandaloop.org

Monday, April 26

"Free to Fly"
Open House

5:30 - 7:30 PM

All are welcome